From The Elders at the St John Church of Christ

Whether we are facing physical or spiritual challenges, mental or emotional hurdles, sometimes the best we can do is simply keep going. We admire people who are persistent, resilient, those who face hardship and simply refuse to quit. Energy and will to endure are essential. We are not expected to endure on our own. We all need love, support, wisdom, and encouragement from others. Most of all, we need to remember God loves us and cares about us and desires to help. We should learn to lean on Him as He strengthens us in our trials. The Holy Spirit is a sustaining influence in our lives.

He even helps us with our prayers when we aren't sure how to pray. Faith grows as we work through the trials of life. Faith gives us confidence beyond our own, empowering us to press forward to a future that is even better than we can imagine. God can do more than we can imagine to ask. Nothing is too small or too big to ask God about. And He is the most loving Father ever.

Thank you God for each one of my Christian brothers and sisters and please bless each one of them. Help each one of them feel your presence in their lives. As you go through this week, remember, you are taking God with you. Have a great and truly blessed week!
