For The Church

In a short time, we will see something that is inspiring and hard to comprehend. The monarch butterflies will be passing through central Kansas on their annual migration of 1200-2800 miles. Traveling from their winter home in central Mexico to their summer homes in northeastern U. S. One has to wonder how this fragile butterfly can make such a journey without any ability to carry supplies and protection. The answer is found I believe Matthew 6:25-34:

“Therefore, I tell you, do not worry about your life, what you will eat or drink; or about your body, what you will wear. Is not life more than food, and the body more than clothes? Look at the birds of the air; they do not sow or reap or store away in barns, and yet your heavenly Father feeds them. Are you not much more valuable than they? Can any one of you by worrying add a single hour to your life? “And why do you worry about clothes? See how the flowers of the field grow. They do not labor or spin. Yet I tell you that not even Solomon in all his splendor was dressed like one of these. If that is how God clothes the grass of the field, which is here today and tomorrow is thrown into the fire, will he not much more clothe you—you of little faith? So do not worry, saying, ‘What shall we eat?’ or ‘What shall we drink?’ or ‘What shall we wear?’ For the pagans run after all these things, and your heavenly Father knows that you need them. But seek first his kingdom and his righteousness, and all these things will be given to you as well. Therefore, do not worry about tomorrow, for tomorrow will worry about itself. Each day has enough trouble of its own.

So as we witness this migration of the monarchs may it remind us that our Heavenly Father knows our needs and we can be confident that he will provide what we need if we seek him first.
